HIGH SCHOOL, WADSWORTH, O.

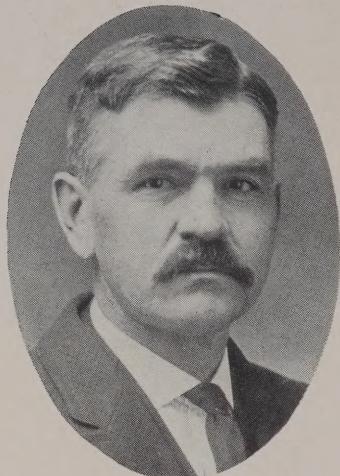

DONATED BY: John Kernan, Wadsworth Township

TO SUPERINTENDENT ELLIOTT:

as an expression
of our deep appreciation
of your helpful friendship, which has gone beyond the limits
of school work alone;
of your hearty fellowship,
which has been big
because it has been simple,
and of your leadership,
which has been always noble, capable, and thoughtfully just,
we dedicate this volume
to you.

Foreword

The Junior Class of Wadsworth Hi greets its friends and schoolmates in this printed expression of gratitude. We feel that this literary effort of ours is a good one, but we do not crave the full measure of honor. Parents, teachers and friends have looked on and suggested while we have wrought and developed. For all these bounties we are thankful and we trust the record of our future years will prove that all these favors have not been unjustly bestowed.

During our three year sojourn in Wadsworth Hi, the school system has made many steps of advancement. The healthy growth of our city crowded our Central Building to overflowing and it was found necessary to erect two new buildings. These are already filled and when we return to school next September another congested condition will present itself.

In these three years, the teaching corps in the grades has grown from 13 to 19 and the high school corps from 6 to 10. In the same time the high school enrollment has increased from 113 to 197.

But advancement has not been alone along the line of numbers. New courses and equipment have been added in abundance. A complete commercial course now has its home in the largest rooms of the Central building. Our graduates are competing successfully with those of special schools in the cities.

Manual training and Domestic Science have also been added. Our equipment as well as the teaching force is the strongest in the county.

When we arrived as Freshmen we looked in vain for a high school library. At the present time we have a good library room with books, cases and tables well provided. A few additional books will make it No. 1. The state school inspector's report commends very highly this addition to our school.

Students who come to Wadsworth High from Wadsworth and surrounding townships form a substantial element in our enrollment. For those who desire agricultural pursuits, such courses have been strengthened and by next year Wadsworth Hi will have the best agricultural course in the county or surrounding counties.

The Junior Class congratulates itself in having the fortune to attend a school where every effort is being put forth to fit each student to pursue any honorable vocation in life. In its worthy endeavors the class of 1918 bids the old school Godspeed, and trusts she may continue to serve Wadsworth and its neighbors as efficiently in the future as in the past.

P R E F A C E

Long years ago, back in the shadowy past, there stood a blacksmith's shop among the giant trees of an elf-haunted forest. Beside the forge was an "Anvil." All day long and half the night, the whispering breezes carried the sounds of the busy sledges out from the wood to the people's world, with its inquisitive, mysterious, mediaeval castles; within the twilight circle of the trees, fires gleamed on the forge and cast ruddy, dancing light upon the faces of the elves at work. The quaint little blacksmiths sang as they beat the glowing iron. What were they doing? They told it all in their song:

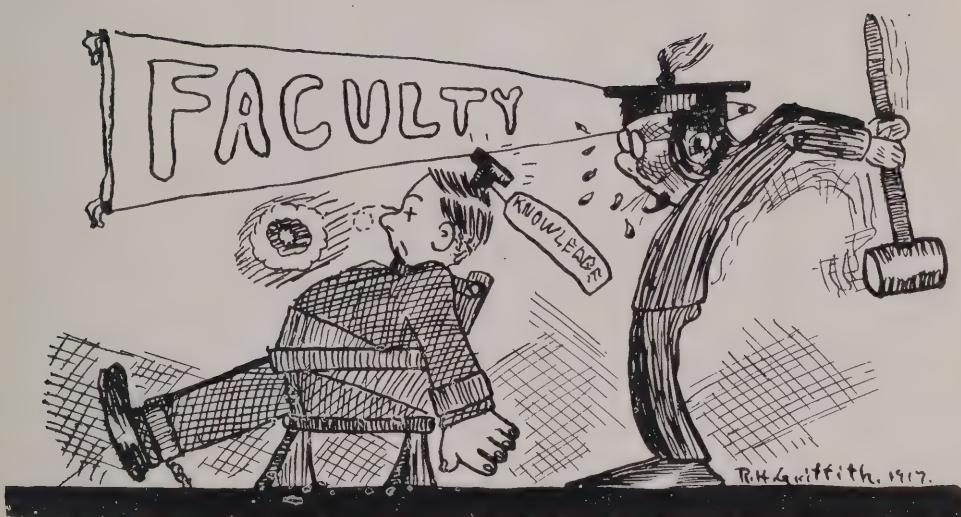

Oh, happy, busy elves are we—
Hark! hear our "Anvil" ring!
From early morn to deep midnight
We work—we work and sing.

We beat the metal into shape,
We make, for those who ask,
The things they dreamed of, longed for, sought
In vain—a merry task!

Whirring bellows, ringing steel,
Clanging, smashing sledges,
White-hot iron, sparks that leap
From our "Anvil's" edges.

That's a picture of our shop;
Tools are all about;
On this "Anvil" is the place
Where we pound things out.

Though sturdy blows upon it fall,
By thousands or but few,
We hold this faith: from first to last,
Our "Anvil" will ring true.

Senior History

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us,
Footprints on the sands of time."

The class of '17, soon going out into the world, is, we may say, standing on the verge of a precipice, overlooking a deep, dark chasm. What is past, we know, and knowing, comprehend; but what lies before us, we cannot even dream of.

"Today is here, where we may look upon it;
Yesterday is past, we fear no more.
But the unknown tomorrow, speeding onward,
What joy or grief may it not hold in store?"

As Freshies we entered the High School forty strong, September 2, 1913. Our room was known as the nursery and we were referred to as infants (See Annual, 1915). We were allowed to mingle, now and then, with the older classes, had a party or two, and attended several football, basket ball and base ball games.

In our Sophomore year, we came back, greater in knowledge but less in numbers. Some dropped out of the race, but those that were left looked forward hopefully to the goal ahead.

As Juniors we began to see the end. We lost some of our old friends: Mr. Kizer, Mr. Thomas, and others—and, in fact, had almost a new set of nurses. Our heads swelled a little; our number diminished as the year passed. This year we chose our colors, black and white. Our flags were put up and the usual number of flag fights occurred. We also had the pleasure of banqueting the Seniors.

And now the end is in sight. The goal is gained and the last milestone in class history is passed. We stand at the pinnacle of the hill which we have been climbing for the past twelve years.

Looking forward into the future, we see many famous men and women among us. We are entering the world of usefulness at a critical period in its history. Nations are at war and a political unrest seems to hang over the universe. The chances for the coming man and woman are greater than at any previous period in our history.

Mabel Hunsberger.

EUNICE WOLFE, Basket Ball (3, 4), Senior Play—Very studious and is prominent in Class activities. With her majestic wand she holds the young men entirely nugatory and they become as clay in her hands.

BESS HARTMAN, Basket Ball (3, 4)—Young yet Brilliant, a promising future surely lies before her. "No sense has she of ills to come Nor cares beyond a day."

ELLA BAKER, Basket Ball (3, 4), Senior Play—Slender and fair of face is she With eyes as blue as they can be, She is always jolly and gay And does her duty well each day.

DORIS BAILEY—As quiet as a mouse and but little larger. She has light hair, very dark eyes and an expression of inquiring innocence.

HARRY HILLIARD, Foot Ball (1),
Senior Play—Was once seen carrying a book, but was never known to open it; — "Wanted—more cinch courses."—Prompt and obliging—sometimes.

CORA HOSTETLER—

C—stands for Cora and courage too
O—n every occasion she proves true blue
R—ight into her books she digs with vim
A—nd after all bumps appears with a grin.

WORTH WESTENBARGER, Senior Play, Senior Class President—
Pleasant, quiet, serious; a willing helper in all class doings; dignity personified; seems to be able to live without his (?) heart.

BERNICE EBERT—

Auburn curls and dark brown eyes
Pretty quiet and so wise
As often of songs we do repeat
We may say of Bernice, "Short but Sweet."

MARJORIE LEATHERMAN—
Marjorie and fashion walk hand in hand
With a cheery smile to brighten
the land
She enjoys books not marred with text
An up to date lady without a jest.

WILBUR ETTER, Foot Ball (1, 3, 4), Basket Ball (2, 3, 4), Base Ball (2, 3, 4), Senior Play, Pres.
of Chrestomathian—Wilbur, or we should say "Wib," is an ardent devotee at the shrine of the fair sex. All around athlete and one of the men of the class. "I hope no young girl will think I am making too little of Love."—Wib.

MELZIE POLLOCK —Never lets studies interfere with pleasure.
"Life is too short for mean anxieties."

BERNARD DURLING, Foot Ball
3, 4), Base Ball (3, 4), Basket Ball (3, 4), Senior Play, Pres. of Calo-Philo —Commonly known as "Buzzy;" the class jester; has a winning way that is irresistible, has won his W in all branches of athletics, fond of the light fantastic.

Happy-go-lucky, free from care,
He ambles along with a jovial air.
Taking part in all with a good will
Of things that happen, he gets his fill.

LESTER STORM, Senior Play—
Quiet, unassuming chap, knows his business and tends to it. Shines in Literary achievements.

ALMA BECK, Senior Play, Orchestra—Very studious and holds a high place in the eyes of her classmates and she is surely "worth" it.

LEVI BROUSE, Senior Play—Former president of Senior class. Easy going and troubleless. Specializes in debate and is greatly admired by the fairer sex.

HILLOUS KIME—

Behold Hillous quiet but profound Her voice and her person seem to correspond
She always knows her lessons but hates to speak the word,
Her motto seems to lay in "being seen, not heard."

MABEL HUNSDERGER, Senior Play—Her chief recreation is study from which she derives great pleasure.

"A quiet lass, there are but few Who knows the treasure hid in you."

BERNARD MALANEY, Senior Play—An immigrant in a civilized country, seldom serious and never taken seriously, is a lover of animals, preferably camels, and is about as romantic as Carlyle's Essay on Burns. Has defective eyesight, probably caused by hard study (?).

EVA MAE DUTT, Basket Ball (3, 4), Senior Play—What a stiff grown up name for our "Little Eva." She has shouldered the awful responsibility of being funny, and to attract the opposite sex.

LOTTIE HARTMAN—Lottie is of a very sweet disposition and is never known to do anything except study but is always on the dot when needed.

OGRETA CULBERTSON—

"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired
Courteous, tho' coy and gentle tho' retired
The joy of youth and health her eyes displayed
And ease of heart her every look conveyed."

RUTH WEAVER, Secretary of Chrestomathean—

She is pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on.

RUTH KECKLER—

Her's a spirit deep and crystal-clear
Calmly beneath her earnest face
it lies
Free without boldness, meek
without fear
Quicker to look than to speak its sympathy.

Lowell.

Junior History

On September ninth, nineteen hundred fourteen, the school bell called together the largest Freshman class Wadsworth High School has yet seen. They numbered seventy-three pupils, all eager and enthusiastic to take up their new and difficult, but, nevertheless, interesting work.

The first year we were looked upon with cold and indifferent eyes; but finally, to the surprise and admiration of all the High School faculty, like the innocent violet making its first appearance in Spring, little buds of knowledge appeared.

After receiving warmth and sunshine, our small buds of knowledge grew larger and began to look encouraging. At this stage of our High School career, we entered the Sophomore year, and were given the privilege of taking part in High School rhetoricals. As now the trials of the Freshman period were over, we began our second year with a new hope and a more consecrated ambition to be successful with every task that entered our experience.

Just as we welcome the coming of the day, so the class of nineteen hundred eighteen welcomed its Junior year. This is a notable year because of the many activities it involves. Edgar Curtis was elected class president and brown and white were chosen as class colors. The social event which will close the Junior year, will be a banquet for the departing Seniors.

All these years we have been preparing and waiting; now we have our reward. We have crushed all obstacles that have lain in our way; and, by the defeats and discouragements that we have experienced, we are becoming stronger and better able to enter the great school called the world.

Joyce Gunsaulis.

HELEN EVERHARD, Orchestra—

She possesses a jolly good disposition. Only becomes angry when she gets demerits which is very seldom (???)

C. EDGAR CURTIS, Foot Ball (3),

Base Ball (2, 3), Class President—This quiet young man answers to the name of "Cookie." He does not go in for very many of the High School activities except base ball, foot ball, basket ball, and social affairs. Besides being president of the Junior Class and having freckles, he is a radical anti-woman hater.

MARVIN ROHN — Wiggly little shaver, never sits still and only studies when he does sit still.

GRACE AUBLE, Annual Board—

She's so nice, don't you know,
Can she cook? Well I think so;
At least she's a good "Baker."

JOYCE GUNSAULIS, Class Historian—Quiet and reserved but really got a demerit once. Is making a record for herself in public speaking.

ROBERT HILLIARD, Foot Ball (2, 3), Annual Board—An ardent believer in fishing for small fish? An Achilles up to dates. Fleet of foot and is a graceful dancer! ! ! ? ?

EVA LONG—Studious and industrious. Is a "shark" at Math. "Never idle a moment, but thrifty and thoughtful of others."

OZRO BISHOP—Studious and seclusive but breaking out in sudden and unexpected brilliancy at infrequent intervals. Authority in parliamentary law.

DALE CRUMLEY, Basket Ball (2, 3)—Answers to the name of "Crum." Plays Basket Ball, likes the Ladies and eats chocolate sodas. Very studious—ehm—sometimes.

ANNA MEAGER—Never seen nor heard except at rare intervals. Studies hard but recites with difficulty.

ERNEST SEIBERLING, Junior Play, Orchestra—Jovial in appearance and manner; Cicero is his long suit; never known to be in a hurry.

With a scholarly mien
He stands calmly by,
Surveying the world
With a critical eye.

SYBIL KREIDER, Basket Ball (2, 3), Orchestra—A very enthusiastic motorcyclist. Intends to become an adventuress. The W. C. T. U.'s best assistant in their fight against booze. Also teaches Sunday School.

ILA NICE—More often called "Dutch," likes chewing gum, and initials H. H. Always smiling and ready.

JOHN BROWN—Maybe you don't know John, possibly you would know more about it if I said "Mart." Yes, now you know who I mean. The Poet Laureate of Wadsworth Hi. He writes free verse, free, because that is the only way he can get rid of it,—give it away.

MINNIE ANDERSON—Full of business and active in school affairs. Has had many disappointments in life, but well accustomed with ways of fate, is able to greet each with a smiling face.

BOBBY HARPER—An expert gardener. Noted for his zeal in working at home. Very gentle and loving at all times. The type you read about in moving picture magazines.

WM. A. CAINE, Foot Ball (2, 3), Annual Board—Very quiet and sedate. A Cicero in the 20th Century. Charmer of the fair sex by his gentleness (?) of speech and dignity of manner.

THELMA SWIGART, Junior Play
—“Thelma, Queen of Perfumes.”
Seems to be a very “Ernest” worker in Cicero.

JOHN BECK, Base Ball (3)—Only real optimist in high school;
prompt and obliging; must have been born under a lucky star; no hurry, one worry but he always gets there.

THELMA ALEXANDER — Very quiet at times? Is said to be an acknowledged authority on English.

PAULINE KINDIG—

She is a sensible girl.
With intelligence too
Well liked by her classmates
Who know she's true Blue.

VILAS A. BIXLER, Foot Ball (3),
Annual Board, Orchestra—"Bix" plays center on the Foot Ball team. It is rumored that he is beginning to slip around quite gracefully on the polished floor. He is a star at studies and comes in quite handy with his wonderful knowledge of Deutsch.

JOSEPH M. NEATH, Foot Ball (2,
3), Annual Board, Base Ball (2,
3)—A lover of clean athletics.
Stars in football and baseball. A flying meteor in debate. One who knows that his head was put on for just one reason; to be used.

IRENE WEAVER—Modest and unassuming, quiet and a lover of books.

"For she is wise, if I can judge
her;
And fair she is, if that mine
eyes be true."

MILDRED KLEGG—She is tall and has brown hair, is an earnest student and was once seen talking to a boy.

MERLE KOPPES, Foot Ball (3)—Meek little 180 pounder. This "Shaggy" is sure a bear on the line. Always smiles and when it comes to jokes believes in giving and taking without taking any more than he has to.

ALVIRA SMITH—Active in all school work, a good student, has a fine temper and is liked by all.

GEORGE BAKER, Foot Ball (1, 2, 3), Basket Ball (2, 3), Base Ball (1, 2, 3), Annual Board.—

"You might think a Dutchman's face
You might just be mistaken
Saved by faith or saved by Grace
He'll never quite be shaken."

ADRIAN BAISH—A whirlwind in society, Ty Cob in disguise with a sprinkling of fine old British wit.

HELEN SMITH—A lover of a looking glass. Does not believe in over-study but gets there just the same.

CARL ROTH—An unassuming and modest little chap. Stars in basket ball and is prominent in school activities. Thou art e'en as just a man as e'er my conversation coped with.

GERTRUDE HARTER — Usually called "Gert." She is always up to something. A star in basketball.

CHAS. O'MEARA, Foot Ball (3), Annual Board—Better known as "Chuck," is famed for his historic talent as displayed in "Macbeth." "Chuck" also plays foot ball and is rumored to be of German extraction.

LURA EVERHARD—A pretty little shining star especially in English. It is said that Cleveland is her favorite seaport.

STANLEY BIRKBECK, Base Ball (2,3), Foot Ball (3), Basket Ball (2, 3), Junior Play—Sunny and energetic, if he was not so small he might be bigger; an athletician of wonderful propensities.

MABEL HOOVER—
Mabel is wonderfully clever and gay,
She knows just how to have her own way.
She never smiles on the pretty little chap
And not for one does she care a snap.

OWEN LIBERT—
A very ambitious young man
Who studies whenever he can
He is certainly bright
Girls soon put him to flight
Which I think is a very good plan.

Junior Class Prophecy

As the great doors of Wadsworth High School closed against the passing footsteps of the class of 1918, the members turned their expecting faces toward their separate paths of life. As the mist rolls away, and we look into the future, we see William Caine following his favorite vocation; he has become a successful Corporation Lawyer in New York; while his closest friend, Joseph Neath, is President of the N. O. T. Railroad. George Baker is now manager of a large shoe store in the Myers Block. Charles O'Meara and Vilas Bixler have opened a large wholesale grocery store there. Dale Crumley is a cashier at the Savings and Trust Company, of which Edgar Curtis is President. A large clothing establishment, with the sign "Harper and Hilliard," presents itself to our view. John Beck and Adrian Baish are professors at a famous Medical College and John Brown is a well known poet at this time. Carl Roth has become a successful draftsman in a large factory in Chicago; Stanley Birkbeck is a practicing physician at the same place. Ernest Seiberling and Merle Koppes are managers of a large stock yard at Western Star; near them lives Ozro Bishop a prosperous farmer.

On the other hand, we find Minnie Anderson a Red Cross Nurse, busy on the battlefields of Europe. But Thelma Swigart is fast becoming famous in her musical career and Grace Auble, at the beginning of her public life, met one of her sweethearts, and is now sailing on the ship of matrimony; while Gertrude Harter is following the same course, as the wife of a successful shoe dealer. Helen Everhard is spending her time teaching the kindergarten tots to play. Eva Long, together with Sybil Kreider and Pauline Hutchinson, is living on a large ranch in the West. Joyce Gunsaulis is now lecturing on the stage. Irene Weaver and Alvira Smith are industrious stenographers in a neighboring city. Helen Smith, Mabel Hoover and Anna Meager are occupying various positions at the same place. Mildred Clegg is living peaceably with her pets. And think of it, our two quiet girls, Pauline Kindig and Lottie Hartman, are becoming ardent suffragettes! In the distance we see Ila Nice climbing over a (Hilly) way to the heights of Stardom in Movieland.

Time passes, and the mists begin to thicken until all is obscured from our view. No one speaks; but everyone knows that a successful and a bright future awaits the class of 1918.

SOPHOMORE

Sophomore History

We are but Sophomores, don't you see,
And a finer bunch, there ne'er could be;
So steady, so studious, so smart, so snappy;
But, to be "just Sophomores" makes us happy.

This fine swarm of bees, called Freshman, entered the Hi(ve) in Sept. 1915, with some trepidation of spirit, it must be confessed, as to just what would be expected of them while inmates of this great Hi(ve); but this condition of entrance, notwithstanding, their first year in this nest of bees passed very creditably for all concerned and they emerged therefrom with an excellent understanding of all details governing the Hi(ve).

They of course, endured their share of the taunts and nicknames which fall to the lot of all "Freshies," but they rose above such petty annoyances and came forth resplendent in their acquired honey (knowledge), and looked forward with eager expectation to the coming year when they should be allowed a little nearer view of the "Queen's throne," (the main-room).

At this period the Hi(ve) enjoyed their annual "rest" of three months, during which time, this swarm of bees made such use of the knowledge gained in the preceding nine months, that when "swarming" time came again, they felt a slightly greater sense of importance and so labored or deported themselves in the presence of their superiors (Juniors and Seniors) as to demand more recognition than they had received heretofore.

Now, their second year in this great Hi(ve) is just about at an end and since they have all but passed a successful period of "honey" gathering (Caesar, English and Geometry) they feel the urgent need of another time of "rest," and also feel that they deserve to hear from their "Queen":—"Well done thou good and faithful, enter thou into the joys of Junior-hood."

FRESHMEN '20

Freshman History

In September 1916 we stood at the threshold of Fort Freshman with "Fear and trembling" for we knew not what lay before us in the unknown land of High School.

As we crossed the threshold our fears were dispelled and our own true courage returned for we found awaiting us our noble captain and his loyal assistants. During the months which have passed when we have faltered "By the wayside" they have guided us to the light and taught us to "Walk therein."

That we were considered a valuable addition to High School was made evident by the kindly reception given us by them. They readily recognized in us valuable recruits not only in the athletic field but in other fields of work.

Our previous records made it plain to the "Captain" that we would need more work to keep our hands and minds employed than did the preceding classes so he issued a decree adding Domestic Science and Manual Training to our course of study.

That the boys took hold of the new work with a will may be seen in the excellent work they have done in Manual Training, while the parents bear testimony to the culinary skill acquired by the girls.

In the work given us to do we put forth our best efforts, seeking to obtain that standard of excellency which is so much to be desired. That we in a measure succeeded we see the results of our own efforts and the counsel and help given us by our Captain and his loyal assistants.

And as we are nearing the close of another year we will "Take gladness at its fullest worth" and just be glad for everything.

The Finals

I wonder if my daily grade
Is good or otherwise,
And if I've more demerits
Than I realize?

Those finals are upon us,
Do you think you'll be exempt?
I hope I am a lucky one
I've made a brave attempt.

Today they read exemptions
I wonder how I stand
If I skip these awful tests
I'll be the happiest in the land.

Oh, good I'm safe from trouble
My grades are ninety
On hearing such a piece of news
I'm glad that I'm so mighty.

Oh grand! My school is over
My trouble at an end;
To those for whom it isn't
My sympathy I send.

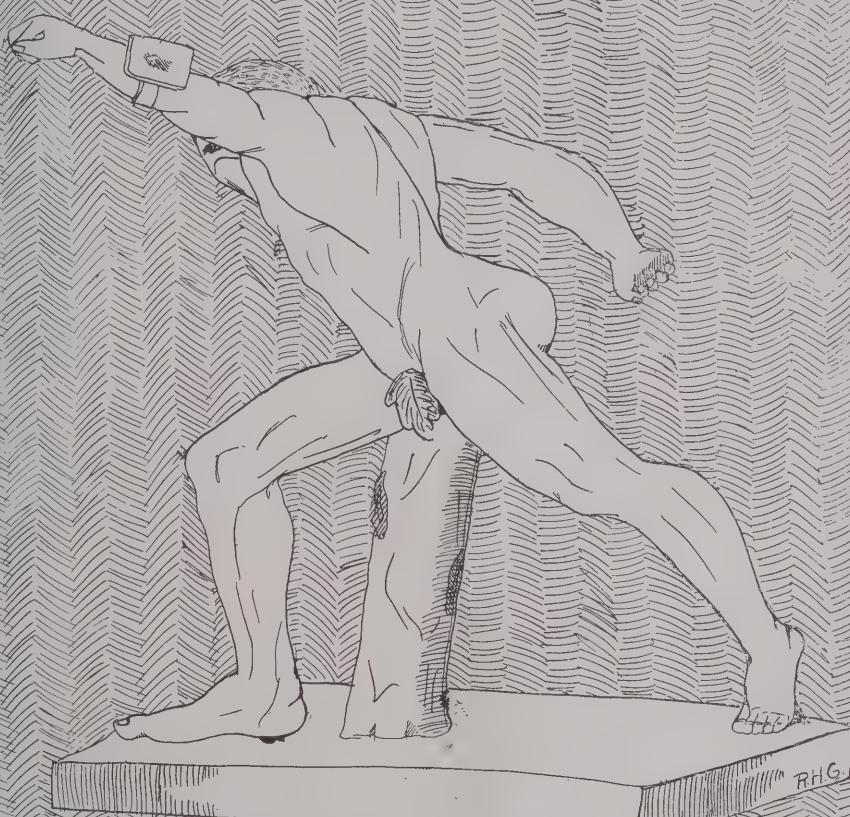

Some one told me the questions
That they had today;
Them exams. were very easy
Is all I have to say.

Just think of all the worry
Those easy tests caused me,
Just because I was afraid
That I could not be free.

I advise the next Juniors
Not to worry so,
But cheerfully to take the tests
If they go below.

ATHLETICS

FOOT-BALL

How It Happened

Wadsworth Hi opened the Foot Ball season of 1916 by trimming South High of Akron, 6-0, on the home grounds.

On September 30th, the boys donned their "paint and feathers," and went to Cuyahoga Falls, to play what proved to be the hardest-fought game of the season. Cuyahoga did fall, and our tribe came home with the scalp. The score was 13-7.

Three days later, we went to Medina, had a little love fest and Wadsworth came home with the bacon fried to the flavor of 28-6. The following Friday night was a hot one in the Old Town. Medina was burned in effigy and our "jinx" consumed. Oh, you cider and pretzels!

On October 13th the team journeyed to Wooster, and staged a forty-minute comedy with the preps. The final curtain fell with a plump on Wooster's neck. Score: W. H. S. 25, Wooster 12.

The next Saturday, the production was repeated at Home, with the same margin. W. H. S. 19, Wooster Prep. 6.

In as much as four regulars were out of the game, our team was in prime shape to get a rimming. So, on October 25th, we went to Orrville, and came home—rimmed, 21-6, by the weakest opponent of the season.

After a two-week's rest, the team "came back" with the same old "zip," only more. On November 11th, we defeated, in a hard-fought struggle, the strong aggregation from Wooster Hi, 14-0.

November 17th.

Scene W. H. S. Gridiron.
Enter Medina.
Loud noise.
Exit Medina.
Score: W. H. S. 44.
M. H. S. 0.

November 23rd—W. H. S. braves all set.

November 24th—Telephone bell rings, and Orrville cancels (I wonder why?). But we should worry; for that evening "the squad" was most royally entertained at a banquet by the girls of W. H. S.

Then Thanksgiving day and Barberton Hi came to Wadsworth. They demanded police protection (?), which they got—but that's about all. When the starting whistle blew, our boys were in it hammer and tongs; and when the Referee puffed out his final blast, they were still in it, two hammers and two tongs. But we deeply sympathized with the Barberton team, in fact, were almost moved to tears, when we saw them lamely lifted into machines and carried home to a cheerless Turkey Feast and with a humiliating defeat.

W. H. S. 19—B. H. S. 0.

This ended Wadsworth's most successful football season. The team won eight out of its nine battles, and the School feels justified in congratulating itself on the remarkable showing made by this team, as well as on its good fortune in having such a competent coach as Mr. Deetz.

As we are losing, by graduation, only two men this year, our prospects are as good, if not better, for the coming season of 1917. And believe us, teams, we're with you.

Boys' Basket Ball

Basket Ball, 1917

Coach MacNaughton and the hard-working basket ball team well represented Wadsworth High in the season of 1917. The men missed few nights of practice, and, with the excellent coaching, they put on the floor the best team W. H. S. ever had. They won eight games out of eleven, and had two open dates which they were unable to schedule.

The home floor is so small that when the team makes a trip, they must play on a much larger floor, which handicaps them just as any visiting team is handicapped here. All the games lost this season were played on a regulation floor, and lack of knowledge on the bigger court helped to lose them.

This next season we lose two men, Etter and Durling, by graduation. They have, through their four years in W. H. S., helped to put Wadsworth High on the athletic map, and their hard work will be missed very much.

On January 5th, we scheduled Rittman High for a practice game and had an easy time throwing baskets. The final score was 43-17, in favor of W. H. S.

On January 12th, Canal Fulton visited us with a heavy and lankey team. The game was exciting and the score low. The home team won, 37-27.

West High, of Akron, came next on January 19th. We easily overcome them by playing a strong defensive game. Score 37-18.

The team, on January 26th, journeyed to Canal Fulton for the return game with the high school there. The team played fairly good basket ball, but lost 46 to 25.

February 2nd the team went in a special car to Ravenna, accompanied by about fifty basket ball fans from Wadsworth. The Ravenna High boys had no show at all with our boys. They did not get a single field goal. The first half ended 13 to 0, but in the last half they scored four fouls. Score 39 to 4.

February 9th, North High, of Akron, visited our team on the home floor. They were small but husky basket-tossers. The game was very exciting and fast. Score Wadsworth High 31—N. of A. 19.

On February 16th, Cuyahoga Falls High came here. They were completely outclassed by the home team. Many second team men were used. Score, 66-28.

February 23rd—No game.

On February 28th, about two hundred rooters accompanied the team to Barberton, where they played Barberton High. The floor was regulation size, but the team found it easy to keep up neck and neck with Barberton during the early part of the game. At the end of the first half, the score was 17 to 16 in favor of Barberton High. The game ended 39 to 25 in favor of the Barberton team.

On March 3rd, Berea High came here for their scheduled game. They had a very fast and husky team, but they found the Wadsworth High team a little stronger. The game was one of the fastest played at home. Score W. H. S. 53, B. H. S. 32.

March 9th—No game.

The W. H. S. team, on March 16th, returned the Berea game at Berea. The game was played on the large college floor, and lack of knowledge on the larger floor lost the game. The rooters congratulated the team on their fine team-work and playing. The Berea team played a strong defensive game throughout, and the score on both sides was very low. Score: B. H. S. 25, W. H. S. 15.

On March 23rd, the schedule called for the last game at Rittman. The Rittman High team was more easily beaten on their home floor than on the Wadsworth floor. It kept Rittman guessing where the ball was most of the time. Score: W. H. S. 51, R. H. S. 16.

The Rittman game ended the season. The team, during the season, scored 422 points to their opponents 271.

Girls' Basket Ball

Girls' Basket Ball

The Basket Ball season, from the standpoint of the girl's team, was a decided success in 1916-17. The home team played with several of the strongest aggregations in Northern Ohio. In each contest the girls put up a good fight and showed the original spirit of Wadsworth Hi.

The opening game was played at home with Willoughby as the opponent. In this hard-fought battle Wadsworth "teamed" very creditably, and came through with the big end of the score, 12-7.

The next game was with Barberton, at home. It was a great pleasure to so completely overwhelm our ancient athletic rivals by a smothering score of 10-3.

February 16th, the team journeyed to Willoughby, where, sad to relate, the troupe waded through and that's about all. The results were Willoughby, 24, W. H. S. 5.

On March 2nd, Berea came to Wadsworth and fought an undecided battle in the home "arena." This was one of the hardest-fought games of the season and resulted in a 6 to 6 tie.

March 16th, the girls went to Berea, but lost, though fighting gamely, 24-5.

The last away-from-home game, played at Rittman, resulted in a decisive victory for Wadsworth. The outcome of the game was at no time in doubt. The final score was 13-3.

BASEBALL

Base Ball Season, 1917

After the Basket Ball season closed, Coach McNaughton called for the Base Ball men to report. Six last year men and a large squad of recruits came out. He lost no time in mixing them together and forming a strong nine.

The only position he is unable to fill is that of pitcher. Three men who have tried out for that position have not proved very successful. This leaves a weak place in the team. The boys on the team field and hit much better than they did last season, as all but two were new men.

April 11th, on their home field, Medina High suffered a defeat at the hands of the Wadsworth team. Medina was unable to meet the ball, and found much trouble in fielding Wadsworth's hits. At no time was W. H. S. forced to the limit. Score: M. H. S. 3, W. H. S. 5.

April 20th brought Creston High to Wadsworth for the opening game at home. It was an awful slaughter; and, as the score indicates, Wadsworth had lots of fun. Score: C. H. S. 6, W. H. S. 19.

Rittman High came to Wadsworth on April 25th. It was a fast game and well played until the game was called in the last part of the third inning on account of rain. Score: 0 to 0.

On April 27th, Wadsworth High went to Wooster to play against Wooster High. The Wadsworth team fielded much better than did Wooster, but could not hit. Score: Wooster 9, Wadsworth 0.

On May the 2nd, the Wadsworth High team journeyed to Orrville, and gave the High School team there its first defeat from Wadsworth High in many years. The game was well played and was exciting in every inning. Score: O. H. S. 7, W. H. S. 8.

In the year of our Lord 1917, the Junior Class of Wadsworth High School decided that they should do something that would earn them either everlasting fame or eternal obloquy. So as time came to pass because they had a grudge against a few of the "meeker" members of "the" class, they herded them together, and broke the sad news to them. They were the Annual Board.

Now, the "meekest" of these was one surnamed Joseph, son of Morgan. He was picked to bear the greatest indignation of all—the editorship.

Then, as there was great need for some one to take care of the Money-grabbing end of this proposition, they appointed a second "Meek" Member, surnamed Willie, son of "Louie."

For his brother in distress, they chose one by name Robert, by fate son of an Undertaker.

As this great undertaking matured, a treasurer was found necessary. In harmony with the best traditions on an Annual Board, they seated, on this lucrative (?) position, a weak sister, by name Lura.

Now, in the days of 1916-17, Wadsworth was quite famous for its athletics; so a certain scribe from the tribe of '18 was made to chronicle the games. The poor boob for this torture was "little Georgie Baker."

Speaking of games, and Baker always reminds us of the Calendar, which is a chronicle of the daily events of the school year. These events were corralled under the leadership of another member of the weaker (?) sex, our own esteemed Grace—Miss Auble.

On account of the high cost of living, three young men were slated to supply us with squirrel food. These bore the respective ancestral cognomens; viz, Charles O'Meara, John Brown, and Robert Harper.

And so, as insult was added to injury, a modest young man, who signs his name "Griff '18," but is really Roy Griffith, concocted a bunch of pipe dreams and christened them Annual Cartoons.

Now last comes the exhibit of all exhibits, Professor Vilas Arthur Bixler, and his collection of wild animals captured alive at great personal risk in the jungles surrounding Wadsworth Hi—the photo editor and his menagerie.

Don't fail to see the trained seals as you pass on to the right.

Literary Societies

Three years ago the faculty suggested a plan for the organization of literary societies. The purpose was to increase interest in literary work and efficiency in public speaking. The plan was so successful that the work is still carried on with great enthusiasm.

The Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are divided into two societies. This year, one society, which gives its name as Calogonean Philomathian, elected Bernard Durling president and Ella Baker secretary; the other, Crestomathian, elected Wilbur Etter president and Ruth Weaver secretary.

The faculty decides upon subjects and gives the work to each person taking part. In former years, one or the other of the societies has come out ahead. Were there to be a contest this year, it is difficult to state which would take the lead. The two societies have raised their standard far higher than ever before. We hope that the students will continue their faithful and loyal work.

Military Drill

On Wednesday, April 4th, a petition, asking for military training, and signed by a majority of the boys of the high school, was presented to Supt. Elliott. He presented it to the school board, and, after receiving the board's consent, wrote to our Congressman for equipment. The answer to this letter promised to furnish us with the 1908 regulation army rifle just as soon as we had forty uniformed boys. The rifles will not come until the beginning of the next school year, but drills in marching are taking place several times each week. This petition shows that the boys of W. H. S. are more than willing to do their part for their country when it needs them.

Edgar Curtis, '18.

The Patriotism of our Girls

It was early in April, when our country sounded forth the great warning, "United States is now at war." The massive wave of patriotism, which was rolling from coast to coast, came upon Wadsworth High School, and, thinking it was only a small rock, was about to pass it by. But it was too late; for the pupils had caught the spirit. Almost immediately the girls proved this by putting out a petition for "Red Cross training," to which were affixed the signatures of sixty-five, true and loyal girls.

The outcome has not as yet been decided upon, but it is the hope in the depths of the heart of each of the sixty-five, that the petition be granted to us. Should the time come when we shall be privileged to serve our country in that manner, our President will nowhere find girls more willing and faithful than at Wadsworth High, "to pledge allegiance to our flag and country for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice to all."

Halcyon M. Olin, '19

To the Board and Superintendent

During the last three years the high school has undergone a transformation which is truly consistent with the modern march of events. During these years we have seen our commercial department expand to such an extent that now with its business college equipment it is worthy of its name.

Enroute to the gymnasium we catch glimpses of our recently installed manual training department which has the impression on our minds that we must learn to do as well as to know. We are not only attracted by the sound of hammer and saw but by sweet and delicious odors emanating from another department dear to the stomach of every true American, the culinary art department, commonly known as Domestic Science.

We no longer need to fear the inspector of schools on account of library facilities. The class of '16, with their gift of a large oak library case, and the Sorosis with two beautiful large quarter sawed oak tables, and your large assortment of America's best literature, all put our library in the first rank of high school libraries.

For all these material things and the excellent teachers whom you hired as guides for the formative period of our lives we wish to extend our appreciation by saying: The Wadsworth Board and Superintendent are truly devoted to the Cause of Education.

The Senior Girl's Question

To wed or not to wed; that is the question:
Whether 'tis better, after all, to marry
And be cajoled and bullied by a husband;
Or to take up stenography and clerking,
And slave, alas, for someone else's husband?
To love—to—and by a wedding, end
The struggles, and the thousand petty cares
That "slaves" are heir to—'tis a rare vocation
Devoutly to be wished. To love—to wed—
To wed! Perchance DIVORCE! Ay, there's the rub;
For in that dream of bliss what jolts may come,
When we have cast aside our little jobs,
Must make us wary. There's the sorry thought
That makes so many spinsters hesitate:
For who would bear the long eternal grind,
The employer's jokes, the chief clerk's contumely,
The insolence of the office boys, the smoke
Of last week's stogies clinging to the hair,
When she herself might quickly end it all
By GETTING MARRIED? Who would not exchange
A dingy office for a kitchenette—
A keyboard for a cook stove or parlor—
But that the dread of something worse to come
After the honeymoon—that life of chance
From whose dark bourne so many have returned
By way of Reno—fills us with dismay,
And makes us rather bear the jobs we have,
Than fly to evils that we know not of?
Thus cowardice makes spinsters of—

Your Store and Ours

This store belongs to us; but it's no good to us unless it's your store too. To be your store it must contain the Clothes you want to wear, it must be arranged for your comfort and it must do business in a way satisfactory to you, having and holding your confidence.

Lots of men---more every year---find that our store is their store. If it isn't already your store, come in and let us make it so.

Store for Men and Boys

Greetings

Two years have passed since we met before in the Wadsworth High School Annual. All business has grown very rapidly in that time. The Wadsworth friends of The Ohio Match Company stand rather close to get a good view, and to possess a true conception of the nation-wide popularity of

and

ROSEBUD MATCHES

When the Gramm - Berstein Motor Truck Company, Lima, Ohio, had finished building the truck for The Ohio Match Company this winter, they paraded all the streets of Lima for hours with this truck—advertising. They realized how well known throughout all our land The Ohio Match Company is. We are happy and Wadsworth is proud.

The Ohio products are used by the principal railroads and largest power plants throughout the world. Consumers of this class base the cost upon the actual service the commodity gives, and not upon purchase price alone.

The Deacon and the Watermelons

The crops were not turning out at all well in one of the most southern Dixie states. Watermelons made up the principal crop and the blight had struck pretty hard.

Deacon Jones was one of the very few industrious negroes in the small town of Smithville, and had worked about as hard as a negro in a hot climate will work to make his small patch grow as many melons as possible. Nevertheless things were turning out pretty badly; and the Deacon saw only starvation (for melons) ahead.

Now, a neighbor, who happened to be the pastor, was having a fine crop; so the deacon saw where he might get a few melons.

"Yo shu know dat de Good Book says dat him who is in stava-tion has a right to borrow," said the Deacon to himself. Where this passage of Scripture is found, I do not know; but the Deacon did, and that is all that was necessary.

That night, the Deacon went into the pastor's patch with his son, whom he instructed to pass out the melons as fast as possible.

Everything was going fine. Suddenly his son stopped passing over the melons.

"Rastus, what done am de matter wid yo?" questioned the father.

"Well, fadder, I was jes' a wondering if it was right fo' yo', a deacon in de chu'ch, to be out borrowin' melons lik' dis."

"Son," replied the father, "don't yo' all know dat dat am too big a moral issue fo' two po' gen'man lik' yo' an me to handle? Pass ober de nex melon."

Raisin' Chickens

"Ever since Mirandy set her mind on raisin' chickens," said Hiram Perkins to a group of old rustics, gathered around the stove at the village grocery store, "my troubles haven't been any too few, I can tell you."

"Tell us about it, Hi," chorused the loafers, coming up closer to the stove.

"Well, you see this is how it is," went on Hi. "She was bound that I was to get them thirty hens that Pete Dunlap had fer sale. I knew there was no use arguing with her; so I jest went and got 'em. Wall, when I got 'em home, I worked until nearly ten o'clock, tryin' to put them there stubborn brutes into the chicken house. At last I did, and I went into the house.

"Did you lock the chicken house door?" asked Mirandy suspiciously.

"I told her I had; but the truth of the matter was, I had plumb forgotten it. I hated to go out there in the cold; so I didn't tell her.

"I don't know how long I'd been sleepin', but all of a sudden I heard the allfiredest racket come from that air chicken house. We both jumped out of bed. After fixin' ourselves as best we could we went out to see what the trouble was. The door was wide open. Mirandy shoved that old shotgun of mine into the doorway and fired, while I hid behind a tree, a little ways off, to catch him when he came out. After Mirandy shot he came rushin' out and come right for my tree. I stepped out and struck at him, but I guess I must'a' missed; for he knocked me down and run right over me.

"Wall, we went back into the house. The next mornin', we found Rube Bushby's hog there in our barn yard. It hadn't been a chicken thief after all—just that dog-gone hawg. Now, I guess it's about time I was movin' toward home."

Ohio Blue Tip Matches

MADE HERE

OHIO BLUE TIP

For years this name has conveyed to the minds of Americans the thought—"The Best Match Made."

Since the beginning, we have not let one day pass without trying our best to make OHIO BLUE TIP Matches BETTER than they were made the day before.

The OHIO BLUE TIP MATCH is NON-POISONOUS. The Sticks are long and our PATENTED PROCESS treats them to prevent AFTER-Glow. It also tends to strengthen the sticks and to PREVENT the CHARRED ENDS from falling.

Our slogan is: ALWAYS BETTER. The result is that each day the OHIO BLUE TIP is the NEWEST and most SCIENTIFIC Match made in the world that day. The name OHIO BLUE TIP is a household word symbolical of Perfection and Greatest SAFETY possible.

Jocose Jingles

Malaney's a very nice fellow—
If he wasn't so awfully yellow.
It is known by his class
That he never can pass.
When you meet him he always says "Hello!"

Harry Hilliard's an awful deceiver;
She says so, and we all believe her.
His heart is of stone,
And not like her own.
And he also has got the Spring Fever.

Adrian Baish is a shy little shaver.
A young lady once told him to save her.
As she fell in his arms,
He said, "I've two farms;"
And this made the girl quickly waver.

A very exquisite feature
Is George Baker, who should be a preacher,
He sings blamed good bass
With astounding good Grace—
"Be mine," he does ever beseech her.

Vilas Bixler's a student most clever,
Who intends to shun women foreyer.
He has many faults,
But can one-step and Waltz,
And will ne'er leave the North End—no, never.

Now, young Stormy's a kid most sedate,
Who has never been beat in debate.
He may look forlorn,
But he sure can husk corn,
And he's never been known to be late.

But the shining star of creation
Is Eighteen class, pride of the nation;
It's fairest to see,
"Ever loyal we'll be
To our banner," is our declaration.

Chuck: Have you got a telephone?

John: No, but we're going to have one piped in, in the spring.

A dry story: A boy went back to the cloakroom to get a drink but the water pipes were frozen.

Mr. Elliott: (After reading a passage from Ruskin): Now, what do we call Ruskin?

Hilly: Insane!

Miss Dalrymple: Can you decline "Father?"

Ab: I've never had the nerve to yet.

Sybil K.: Say, George, what should I do with this glue?

Geo.: Put it on your tongue to keep it quiet.

Bob H.: German is easy; anybody can learn it.

Griff.: Well if anybody can, why don't everybody learn it?

Bob: Well, anybody can fall off a roof; but everybody isn't doing it.

Si: I dreamed last night you gave me a dollar.

Silena: Well, you can keep it if you want it.

Helen E.: Time must hang heavy on your hands

Kate: How is that?

Helen E.: Why, you wear a wrist watch.

He: Does your mother object to kissing?

She: Now, just because I allow you to kiss me, you needn't think you can kiss the whole family.

Stanley: Why are Ana's eyes like Frank Fritz's?

Stanley (after no answer): Because they correspond but never meet.

Dale: I know a fellow that passed ten saloons and didn't stop into any of them.

Baish: I don't believe it.

Dale: Yes he did; he was in a patrol wagon.

Heard at Ream's Grocery:

Is this lettuce fresh?

Oh, yes; I don't know of anything fresher, unless it would be the Freshmen.

Freshman: ((Seeing a kid with skates on his shoulder): Are you going skating?

Smart Guy: No; my skates and I are just taking a walk.

Bates: Why is a freshman an exception?

Rebates: Because he is green and fresh in the fall, and stale and dry in the Spring.

Heard in an ammunition factory: "Now keep this quiet; I'm going to drop a bomb down on the second story."

Quest: Why is an Irishman like a Ford?

Conquest: Because he's cheap, stubborn, easily rattled, and is always smoking.

Salesman (addressing prospective soldier): My boy, if you ever go to war, wear Paris Garters, and you will come home alive.

Boy: How's that?

Man: No metal can touch you.

Halcyon: Bobbie tried to put his arm around me three times last night.

Pauline: Some arm!

Mr. Elliott: Is there such a thing as Hades, Worth?

Worth: Of what I recollect, there is.

Pupil: What should I do with this problem?

Teacher: Oh, take it out for an airing.

1st Junior: I took a picture of Edgar Curtis working the other day.

2nd Junior: Must have been a snap shot.

A German Officer (wishing to find out the accomplices of a noted gambler): Vot was you doin' last night?

Gambler: I was playing solitaire in the back of Blank's saloon.

Officer: Ach, now I have you; who vas you playing solitaire mit?

High School Grad: This high school certainly takes an interest in a fellow; doesn't it?

Pupil: How's that?

Grad: Well, I read that they would be very glad to hear of the death of any of their alumni.

Bake (to John Brown): Say, "Mart," what's our English for tomorrow?

John B. (absently): Take the life of John Bunyan.

Miss Reinhart (to Commercial Law class): Yes, we had a panic in 1893; do you remember (Outbursts of laughter from the class).

Miss Reinhart: Just wait till I finish. Do you remember having read of it?

Matt: That fellow's worth a lot in Arizona.

Dormat: How's that? Is he a banker?

Matt: No; the sheriff out there offers five thousand dollars for his arrest.

I stole a kiss last night;
My conscience hurt, alack,
I think I'll have to go tonight
And put the darned thing back.

Wouldn't it be awful if

Mr. Deetz would smile?
Mr. Kreider would quit telling jokes in English class?
Mr. MacNaughton would really get mad?
Malaney would not get a bawling out every day?
Caine would get up before 8:30 A. M.?
Ab. Gross would study a lot?
John Brown would keep awake in English class?
Chuck O'Meara would recite in German?
Buzzy Durling would act serious?
Cobun Quigley would pass his peanuts?
Baish would make the Basket Ball team?
Hunks would blow his nose without our knowing it?
There would be another wreck on the Erie?
Bake's knees should get acquainted?
Bobby Harper would catch up in Book-keeping?

Doctor: Well, and how did you find yourself this morning?
Ozro Bishop: I just opened my eyes, and there I was.

So you've been married for five years, eh?
Yes, a little more than five.
I suppose you have something about three feet high running around the house.
Yes, a hedge ! ! !

What are you plowing this field for?
For a dollar and a half a day!

Why?
Why do you work so hard?
I'm too nervous to steal.

Familiarity
Pop: Are you familiar with mathematics?
Son: Sure, I call 'em "Math" for short.

She is very, very pretty,
She has a lovely face;
I'd try my best to kiss her,
If she were only Grace.

GOOD LOOKS

Good looks are impossible for the wearers of the old-fashioned double vision glasses with their conspicuous, disfiguring seams and shoulders.

Wear KRYPTOKS. They add a touch of distinctiveness to your appearance. Combining near and far vision in one solid, crystal-clear lens, KRYPTOK GLASSES cannot be detected from single-vision lenses. Let us show you how tasteful they are.
